American and European Fire-Arms

MAINLY THE PROPERTY OF AN

American Gentleman Now In Europe

1. EARLY SOUTHERN PERCUSSION SUPERPOSED DOUBLE BARREL PISTOL. L. $8\frac{1}{2}$; Cal. abt. 38.

Double trigger, "mule-ear" hammers, rifle barrels, apple wood stock, brass cap-box in the butt. Iron mounts, no marks.

2. RARE PHILA. PERCUSSION CARRIAGE PISTOL. L. 8 ins.

Very heavy barrel about calibre .41. Engraved iron mountings. Lock marked "Deringer Philadelphia." Plain piece, of extreme rarity, in fairly good condition.

3. ENGLISH FLINT-LOCK OFFICER'S PISTOL. L. $15\frac{1}{2}$ in. Date 1745.

Made by the celebrated D. Egg,—one of England's most famous old-time makers. Fancy engraved brass mountings. No ramrod and crack in stock. A high grade pistol.

4. PAIR OF DRAGOON FLINT LOCK PISTOLS. L. 16 ins.

Handsome pieces with a crowned "O N" on the lock. Very heavy flint lock pistols, brass flat butts with rings, heavy brass trigger guards and brass tipped ends on extended stocks.

5. VERY RARE SPANISH FLINTLOCK PISTOL. L. $16\frac{1}{2}$ ins.

Half octagon slightly belled barrel inlaid with silver, lock and mounts beautifully chiselled, massive butt cap, two silver portrait medallions on mounts, makers seal on barrel and lock.

An unusually fine Spanish Pistol of the period of 1750, stock cracked and small piece at thimble gone.

6. PENCIL PISTOL: NICKEL FINISH. L. (entire), $3\frac{3}{4}$ ins.

Chambered for Smith & Wesson .32 cartridges.

A curious freak pistol, to be carried concealed in the palm of the hand; fired by squeezing in the hand with the barrel between the first and second fingers.

Pencil pistols, nickel finish, are quite rare, as but few were made.

7. PENCIL PISTOL: BLUED FINISH. Entire Length $3\frac{3}{4}$ ins.

Chambered for a Smith & Wesson .32.

Rare little pistol fired by holding in the palm of the hand and pushing spring trigger with two fingers. Scarce.

8. DOUBLE BARRELLED SHOTGUN. L. 46 in.; $\frac{1}{2}$ in. Cal.

Double barrels of twist steel, with milled strap, concealed underhammers, safety: breechloader; beautifully polished mahogany stock, with checkered pistol grip; blued steel mounts, engraved—the butt plate milled in diamond design.

Mark: Syracuse Arms Co. Fine Damascus.

From the estate of the man who succeeded John Howard Payne as Consul at Tripoli and who bought his house and contents there.

9. DANIEL BOONE FAMILY FOWLING PIECE. L. 57 in.; 18 gauge.

Cap-lock fowling piece altered from flint-lock. Procured of W. E. Boone, a descendant of Jacob Boone (first cousin to Daniel Boone, the noted pioneer). This gun was secured from the actual descendants and has been described in several different magazines and newspapers, including the National Sportsman for October, 1922. Mark: Kettland, London.

A fowling piece originally the property of Jacob Boone, who was born in Bucks Co., Pa., in 1744, and was first cousin to Daniel Boone. In 1775 Jacob moved to Franklin Co., Virginia, he died in 1814 and was buried at Boone's Mill, Va. A son named Daniel brought the gun with him to Michigan in 1845 and when he died in 1872 it went to his son Preston in whose possession it remained until 1904 when he gave it to his nephew, and a grandson of the "second Daniel" (the original owner's son), W. E. Boone. The affidavit accompanying the gun is from him and from Eliza Boone Ford, the only living child of the "second Daniel."

It is the typical old time fowling piece—just the gun that a man who was looking for service (not for show) would be inclined to pick out. The authenticity of this old weapon is established as coming from a direct Boone descendant—even to the name—and such being the case, it is a very desirable acquisition. It has not been cleaned, and the two screws are still missing leaving it still just in the condition it came from W. E. Boone.

From the family history handed down, it is believed that this old gun WAS OFTEN IN THE HANDS OF DANIEL BOONE, as he made long visits to Jacob's home, and it would be a very natural thing for him to have used it when failing eyesight would not warrant the use of a rifle.

10. REMINGTON REVOLVER AND CASE. L. 14 ins.; Cal. .32.

Percussion, six-shot, octagon barrel, blued cylinder; brass guard. Walnut grip. Mark: Pat. Dec. 16, 1861, Manfg. by Remington's Ilion, N. Y. In velvet lined mahogany case with some accessories including a fine reeded copper flask.

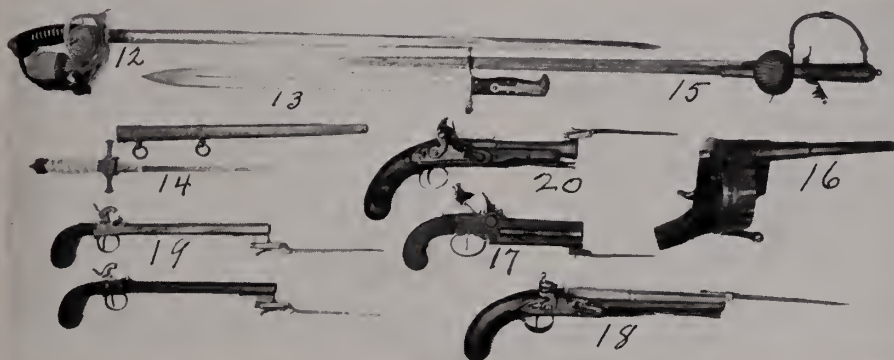

11. SIGNAL PISTOL. L. 16 ins.

Heavy and with plain wood handle with ring. Mark: F. L. 8687.

12. ENGRAVED GERMAN CAVALRY SWORD.

(Illustrated)

33. LADY'S 18TH CENTURY GOLD MOUNTED FLINT-LOCK PISTOL. L. $6\frac{1}{2}$ in.; bbl. 3 in.; cal. .38.

Exceedingly beautiful small French Side Lock Flint-lock Pocket Pistol. Period of about 1750. Cannon barrel and all mountings elaborately chiseled and with gold inlay. A piece of very superior workmanship in fine general condition, worthy of any museum. Ivory ramrod, multi-firing, carved rosewood grip and bird-head butt, chiselled and gilt.

The chiselled name-plate surmounted by a coronet.

(Illustrated)

34. FINE OLD FRENCH DOUBLE BARREL TURN-OVER FLINT-LOCK PISTOL. L. $17\frac{1}{2}$ in.; bbl. $9\frac{1}{4}$ in.; cal. .50.

Made in Paris about 1750. A beautiful old arm, the early idea of more than one shot with but a single lock. The barrels, which are superposed, are released by depressing a spring catch let through the forward part of the trigger bow, when they may be turned by hand and locked so that the flash pans, which are carried on each barrel, will be forward of the hammer. Mark partly obliterated, ending "a Paris."

(Illustrated)

35. PAIR OF FINE FRENCH SILVER MOUNTED PERCUSSION DUELLING PISTOLS.

In exceptionally fine burl walnut case trimmed with ebony containing all accessories, made at St. Etienne about 1850. The barrels are of the finest "chain" Damascus steel, the carved and fluted stock of French walnut, the fine French rifling is of particular interest and the system of raising the rear sights by means of a screw passing through the tang is unique. Length 17 ins.; barrel 11 inches; calibre .55.

Superb pair, unequalled in finish and workmanship.

(Illustrated)

36. LARGE PAIR OF SWISS FLINT-LOCK, GOLD-MOUNTED DUELLING PISTOLS. L. 13; cal. .45; multi-rifling.

Maker, Ulrich at Berne. Gold touch hole inlay and maker's mark. A handsome pair of pistols in fair general condition and in case with accessories, burl walnut extended stock on octagon barrels, checkered grip, horn-tipped ramrod.

(Illustrated)

37. PAIR BOUTET FLINT-LOCKS (GUNSMITH TO NAPOLEON).

Pair Large French Flint-lock Officer's Pistols. Made by France's most celebrated maker, Boutet, gunsmith to Napoleon I. Beautiful butt caps of silver representing in high relief the Medusa head surrounded by snakes. Pistols in good and complete general condition. THE PISTOLS BY BOUTET ARE PRIZED MORE BY COLLECTORS OF EARLY FIREARMS THAN THOSE OF ANY OTHER MAKER.

(Illustrated)

38. PAIR D. B. BRASS FRENCH FLINT-LOCKS. L. 7 in.; barrel 3 ins.; calibre .40.

Pair of old double brass octagon-barrel French Flint-lock Pocket Pistols, of the side by side centre hammer type, with finely checkered "bay" walnut stock; safety and engraved brass lock plate.

This type of pistol was highly thought of at the beginning of the Eighteenth Century, and there is nothing handsomer or more decorative.

(Illustrated)

39. PAIR FRENCH BREECH-LOADING DUELLING PISTOLS. L. 14; Cal. (about) .28.

Breech action is the well-known Martini Henry action, operated by the trigger guard, AND IS SELDOM MET WITH ON PISTOLS. Handsomely carved fluted stocks, good general condition, with octagon steel barrels.

(Illustrated)

40. PAIR BRASS CANNON BARREL FLINT-LOCKS. L. 14 $\frac{3}{4}$; bbl. 8 $\frac{5}{8}$; cal. .63.

French Flint-lock Holster Pistols of the time of Louis XVI, about 1775. Made by Francois Thomas, Paris. Full length, walnut stocks (cracked) with silver wire inlay. The barrels, mountings, and even the lock plate are of brass and all well engraved and furnished, a very good example of this type of pistol, although cracked and repaired and one flint-holder screw missing.

(Illustrated)

41. HANDSOME LARGE PAIR D. B. FRENCH FLINT-LOCKS. L. 16 in.; bbl. 8 in.; cal. .70.

Exceptionally large and heavy pair of double barrelled side by side Flint-lock Pistols. Maker, Moriseau in Paris. Handsomely engraved mountings. Fine general and complete condition, with gold inlay at the breech, silver name plates, checkered light walnut grips and oval butt tip beautifully engraved, horn-tipped ramrods, all details in the finest workmanship.

(Illustrated)

42. PAIR OF LARGE STEEL BARRELLED FRENCH FLINT-LOCK BLUNDERBUS PISTOLS. L. 12 in.; 1 in. mouth.

Exceedingly handsome belled cannon, partly reeded barrels. Large solid silver butts in the shape of an eagle's beak. This is an especially fine pair of a rare model and in fine condition (one ramrod restored). Mark: Lambert a Autun, Canon Tordu.

(Illustrated)

43. PAIR 18TH CENTURY FRENCH OVERCOAT FLINT-LOCK PISTOLS. L. 12 in.; bbl. 6¼; cal. .60.

French Flint-lock Overcoat Pistols of about 1775 (Louis XVI). Three armorers marks appear on the breech of the octagon steel barrel and J. Rey on the under side.

A very well made and serviceable pair of pistols, well fitted and checkered, nicely engraved and furnished throughout. Oval butt caps, engraved, with full burl-walnut stocks, one horn-tipped steel mounted ramrod (one missing).

(Illustrated)

44. PAIR OF VERY EARLY ROBERT (FRENCH) BREECH-LOADING HAMMERLESS DUELLING PISTOLS. L. 14 in.

Made by Robert, of Paris. These pistols take a paper cartridge, out of which protrudes a small copper tube containing the fulminate. The breech block is pivoted on both sides on the rear of the barrel and swings upwards and forwards to open the breech. The act of opening the breech cocks the hammer which is concealed underneath the octagon barrel.

PISTOLS IN FINE CONDITION AND OF GREAT RARITY. With checkered burl walnut grips, oval carved butt-tips.

(Illustrated)

45. PAIR D. B. GOLD MOUNTED FRENCH PISTOLS. L. 10½ in.; W. 20 oz.; cal. .50.

A fine pair of French double barrel Percussion Pistols marked "Service Le Cadet," on the right lock plate, "St. Etienne" on the left lock plate and "Canon Fondu" on the rib. The barrels are browned and heavily inlaid or plated in gold scrolls, sunbursts, etc. The mounts of steel are artistically designed and met by fine carving wherever let in to the stock. One grip cracked.

A very attractive pair of French Coach Pistols of seventy years ago.

(Illustrated)

46. PAIR OF LARGE SPANISH FLINT MIGUELET LOCK HOLSTER PISTOLS: SILVER MOUNTED. L. 17 ins.

Barrels and locks handsomely engraved in high relief. All the mounting, including belt hooks, are of silver, stocks being almost covered with same.

An exquisite and original pair of a rare type and in good general condition.

(Illustrated)

47. FINE OLD SPANISH MIGUELET FLINT-LOCK PISTOL.

Half octagon barrel slightly bell mouthed. Full length stock, heavily brass mounted and well carved. Belt hook on left side. Base of barrel has armorers countersign. A very fine old piece of about 1700. Length $14\frac{1}{2}$ inches; weight 28 oz.; calibre .70.

(Illustrated)

48. D. B. GOLD MOUNTED FLINT-LOCK. L. $13\frac{1}{2}$ in.; cal. .60.

Large Double Barrelled Flint-lock Coach Pistol. Outside lock plates handsomely engraved. Elaborately carved stock. Bronze fittings. Barrels with Spanish proof marks; handsomely decorated with gold inlay and silver plated frame. Good general condition excepting a crack in the fore end of the stock.

(Illustrated)

49. HANDSOME PAIR OF SPANISH FLINT-LOCK HOLSTER PISTOLS, MIGUELET LOCKS. L. 13 in.; Cal. .72.

Handsome half hexagon barrels with gold inlay, armorer's mark and silver inlay inscription, Fabricado en Plazenzia, ano 1823. Fair general condition. Checkered grips.

Swinburne & Sons, makers. Belt hooks on side, and cap box in butts. In rosewood case with all accessories. ONE OF THE HANDSOMEST PAIRS OF PISTOLS OF THIS TYPE AND PERIOD THAT HAVE EVER PASSED THROUGH OUR HANDS AND PERFECT CONDITION.

(Illustrated)

56. CASE OF OLD ENGLISH FLINT-LOCK POCKET PISTOLS, 1775. L. 6¼ in.; barrels 1½ in.; calibre .45.

Unscrew barrels, silver wire inlaid stocks, centre hammers, safety catches on top. The design of this polished French walnut case is recessed to pack the pistols with the barrels demounted. The grip of the bullet mould is made in the form of a spanner for unscrewing the barrels. The letter W on silver plate in the case.

Purchased at Cavillion, France, at the sale of the contents of the Chateau de Caseans, November 1915. FINE CONDITION.

(Illustrated)

57. PAIR OF HANDSOME FLINT-LOCK HOLSTER PISTOLS.

Maker, Wilson of London. These pistols probably found their way to the Orient and they have been elaborately decorated with silver inlay in the stocks and massive, deeply curved silver butt caps and trigger guards. Length 16 in.; calibre .60.
(Illustrated)

58. PAIR OF LARGE RICHARDS ENGLISH DOUBLE BARREL, SIDE BY SIDE, BOX LOCK, F. L. HOLSTER PISTOLS.

Each pistol has one hammer and one flash pan cover. To fire the second barrel a slide is pulled back which uncovers the left hand flash pan. Rare pistols in good condition. Mark: Richards. L. 12 in.; cal. .50. Panelled "bag" grips with brass butt-caps.

(Illustrated)

59. PAIR OF ALL STEEL, BOX LOCK, PISTOLS.

Maker: Seaglas, London. Length 10 ins., steel work elaborately engraved. The sliding forward of the trigger guard locks the flash pan cover and hammer. Cannon barrels which unscrew to load; pistols in good general condition.

(Illustrated)

60. PAIR OF THREE BRASS BARRELL FLINT-LOCK OVERCOAT PISTOLS BY THOMAS OF LONDON.

The barrels, which are of brass as are the breeches and frames, unscrew for the purpose of loading and are numbered one to six. They may be fired at the discretion of the shooter by directing the spark to any barrel by turning a transverse fancet on the side of the frame. IN EXCENTIONALLY FINE CONDITION. MUSEUM PIECES OF EXCESSIVE RARITY.

(Illustrated)

61. RAPAHANNOCK FORGE, LARGE FLINT-LOCK HORSE PISTOL. L. 15 in.; Cal. .75.

THE RAREST OF ANY AND ALL U. S. PISTOLS. Marks on lock, "RAP A FORCE." In the centre of the lock plate below the flash pan are the two letters "C. P." which stands for "Continental Property." The stock on the left hand side is stamped twice with the letters "A A L," which are probably the initials of the man who inspected the piece.

This pistol has been submitted to two experts and is sold with a full guarantee as to its genuineness. FINE GENERAL CONDITION. Stock repaired at tip. The ORIGIN AND OWNERSHIP of this pistol can be furnished to the purchaser upon application.

(Illustrated)

62. COLLIER'S PATENT, FIVE-SHOT REVOLVING FLINT-LOCK PISTOL. L. 14 ins.

PROBABLY THE MOST CELEBRATED PISTOL EVER MADE. Although a flint-lock, it is almost modern in design and workmanship and way ahead of its time. All mountings elaborately engraved. Handsome checkered stock with silver inlay. Good general condition and in complete working order.

THIS PISTOL IS DESCRIBED AND ILLUSTRATED IN GREENER'S "The Gun and Its Development." A pistol of exceptional rarity. Mark: E. H. Collier, London.

(Illustrated)

63. PATERSON COLT REVOLVING SHOT-GUN. L. 51 in.

About 20 gauge. Length of cylinder 4 ins., length of barrel 32 ins.

Gun is in good general condition AND IS OF EXCESSIVE RARITY. A Collector's Piece. Marked on side: Patent Arms Manufacturing Co., Paterson, N. J. Colt's Patent.

(Illustrated)

64. COOKSON TYPE REPEATING FLINT-LOCK CARBINE.

Made by I. Sandoz, and probably somewhat earlier in design than the celebrated Cookson Gun in the Smithsonian Institute, Washington, D. C. The mechanism is exactly the same as in the Cookson Gun with the exception that the rotating of the side lever does not automatically close the flash pan, nor cock the hammer.

A MUSEUM PIECE OF GREAT RARITY, the brass lock-plate beautifully engraved with a hunting scene; patch box.

(Illustrated)

65. COMBINATION SAVON MINER'S AXE AND FLINT-LOCK PISTOL. L. 50 ins.

Gilt bronze axe head, elaborately decorated, carved and pierced and bearing old German inscription. Shaft inlaid with ivory decorations of leaves, scrolls, and running dogs, rabbits, etc. Far general condition.

A RARE AND EARLY PIECE. The pistol having 6-inch cannon-barrel is set in through the axehead.

(Illustrated on p. 21)

66. SINGLE-BARREL, DOUBLE-HAMMER FLINT-LOCK GUN. L. 55 ins.

Exceedingly rare flint-lock shotgun, firing two shots out of one barrel. The front of the gun is like any single-barrelled shotgun. At the rear, however, it is like a double-barrelled shotgun. The barrels are side by side and converge into one barrel. An unpractical piece as far as shooting goes, but very rare and interesting as a curiosity for collectors.

(Illustrated on p. 21)

67. PAIR OF ALBANIAN SILVER MOUNTED BALL-BUTT FLINT-LOCK PISTOLS. L. 18 ins.

Ball triggers, leather covered stocks, three silver sleeves with nielated silver decorations, similar back strap and butt-cuff and tip. A handsome pair of pistols in fine general condition.

(Illustrated on p. 21)

68. HEAVY OLD DOUBLE BARREL OVER AND UNDER FLINT-LOCK PISTOL. L. 18 ins.; Wt. 2 lbs.; Cal. .50.

The barrels, which are superposed, each carry a flash pan, and are revolved by hand to the left after being released by drawing back the front of the trigger bow, thereby bringing the frizen opposite the hammer, which is on the right side. A wood fore-end carrying a ramrod extends from lock plate to muzzle. The butt of walnut, which is slightly carved and has carved steel name plate, terminates in an enormous steel ball. In shooting order, but guard cracked.

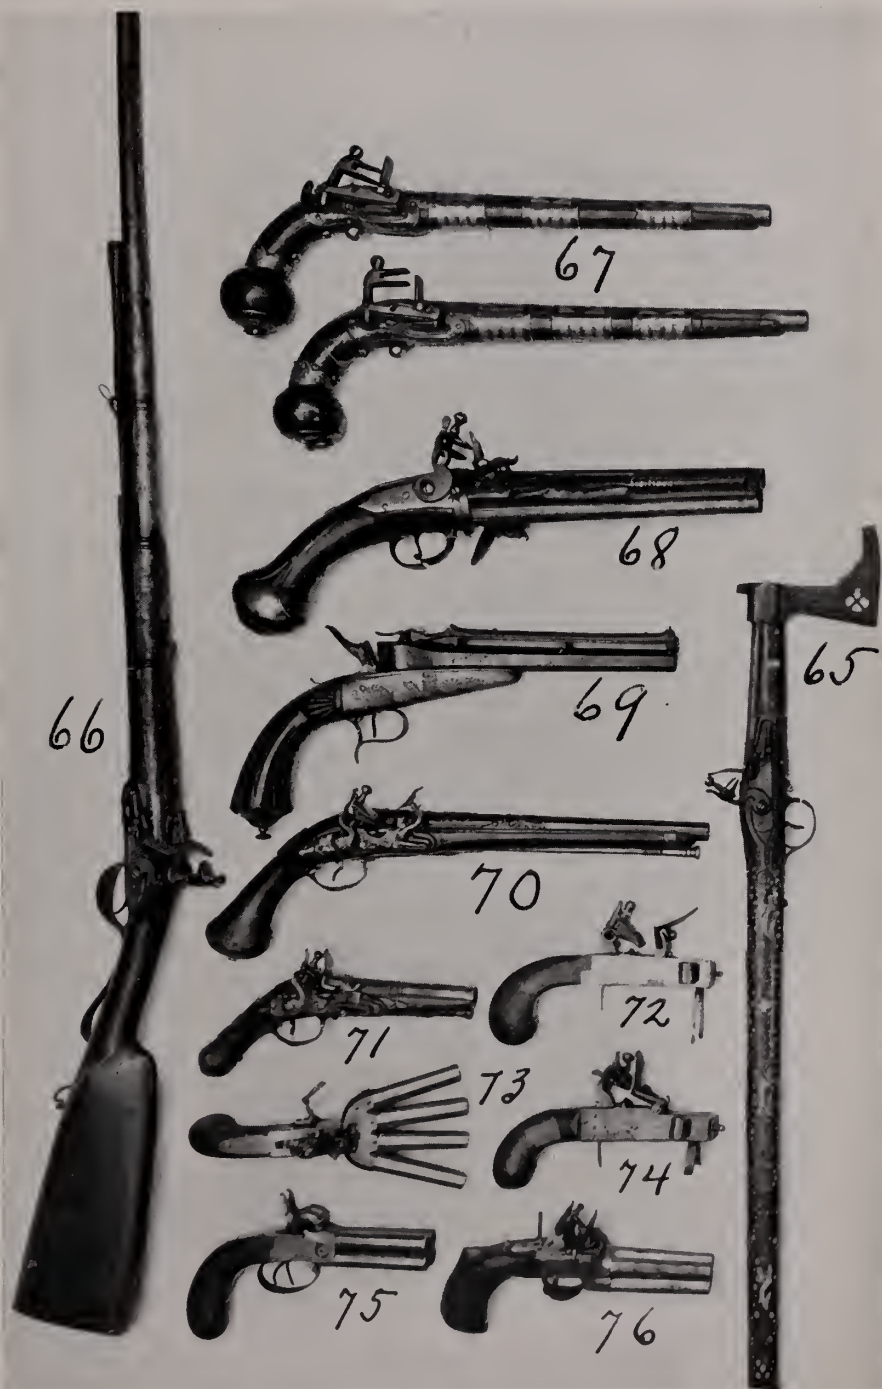

(Illustrated on p. 21)

69. BELGIAN REPEATING NEEDLE PISTOL. L. 15 in.; Cal. .32.

Special bullets containing their own powder and fulminate are carried in a tube above the reversed spoon-shape barrel. A breech block moving up and down takes the bullet from the upper tube and inserts it into the breech.

A repeating pistol of EARLY TYPE, RARE MECHANISM AND HANDSOMELY FINISHED AND ENGRAVED. Carved and fluted grip.

(Illustrated on p. 21)

70. LARGE ITALIAN SNAP HAUNCE PISTOL. L. 17 ins.

Barrel elaborately decorated with medallion knights in armor and trophies in high relief. Lock plate, trigger guard, butt plate and mounting exquisitely decorated and engraved. A very rare and early pistol in fine condition, ramrod.

In this pistol the flash pan cover slides forward to uncover the powder and is entirely separate from the frizen.

(Illustrated)

71. BEAUTIFUL ITALIAN FLINT-LOCK POCKET PISTOL. L. 9 ins.; Cal. .50.

(Illustrated)

75. FOUR BARREL PERCUSSION PISTOL. L. 8½ ins.; Wt. 24 oz.; Cal. .45.

The two top barrels are side by side and are fired by separate hammers. To fire the two lower barrels pistol must be cocked, new caps placed on nipples and a transverse cylinder rotated one quarter of a turn. This fires the lower barrel. Was probably originally a flintlock. With curly maple "bay" stock, brass engraved frame.

(Illustrated)

76. FOUR-BARREL FLINT-LOCK PISTOL.

Barrels unscrew to load; two top hammers and two flashpan covers which fire the upper barrels separately. To fire the lower barrels a faucet is revolved one quarter turn, which opens the lower vent holes communicating with the lower barrels. Pistol is completely but only in medium condition, otherwise a rare and curious piece. Mark: Harze and Co. Belgian proof marks. Saw-handle mahogany grip with spur. (Illustrated)

77. DOUBLE-BARRELL SUPERPOSED FLINT-LOCK PISTOL. L. 13 ins.; cal. about .70.

97. EVANS HAMMERLESS SPORTING RIFLE. L. 47 ins.

Magazine 36 cartridges, rare. Elevating rear sight, checkered forestock.

(Illustrated)

98. PORTER NINE SHOT CAP AND BALL. L. 46; Cal. .50.

A revolving, breech-loading, percussion rifle, with heavy octagon barrel, firing a paper cartridge; the cylinder revolving on an axis at right angles to the barrel. Hammer on the side; cylinder revolved by a lever (Winchester Style) underneath. Rammer on top of the barrel for seating bullets in the cylinder. Mark: Porter's Patent, 1851, Address P. W. Porter, New York. Rear and front sights at side of barrel.

One of the rarest of the early "freak" revolving rifles. It is said that but sixteen of these rifles were made, and the inventor himself killed while exhibiting it; the heat of the firing setting off the cartridge that faced him from its position in the cylinder. Col. Colt was said to have been present when the accident happened.

(Illustrated)

99. INDIAN WARRIOR WAR AXE AND CLUB. Scarce.

A wicked and dangerous weapon.

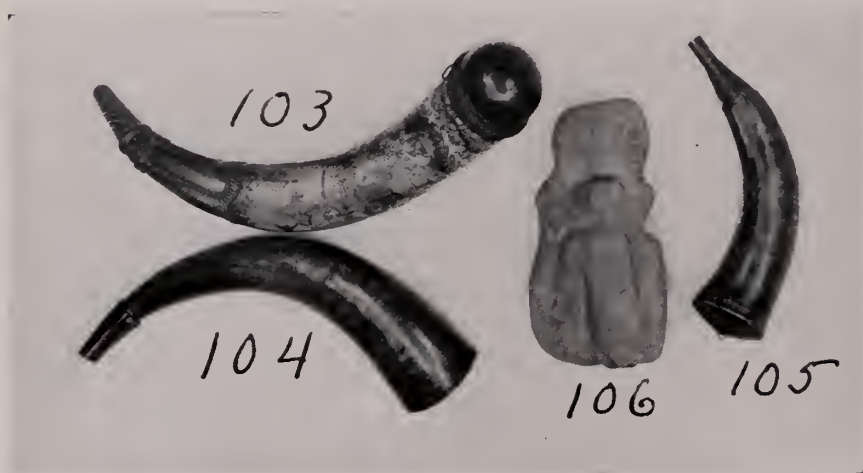

A crude double-edge blade set at right angles in a hard wood flat gun-shape stock, which is painted and hammered into a design with brass-head nails.

102. ALASKAN SHARK RATTLE. L. 11 ins.

Nicely carved after nature, painted black, with red mouth and teeth, the fins inlaid with pearl.

103. POWDER HORN OF THE REVOLUTION WITH ENGRAVED VIEW OF NEW YORK. AN exceptionally fine double-curve engraved powder-horn measuring 16 ins. in length.

It originally belonged to Capt. John Young, who, apparently, executed the elaborate engraving, and who no doubt was the commander of the armed sloop Independence that is shown on the horn. The largest decoration is a view of New York (named in a label) and represents lower part of the city. In the foreground are two cannon, with cannon-balls piled beside them, behind them is a stockade on the rise of a slight elevation, and at the extreme right a redoubt with gun embrasures. Inside the stockade is the wall of another redoubt or fort on the top of the elevation. Inside this latter, and extending to right and left are the buildings of the city, a very tall spire probably denoting Trinity Church, and a tall windmill is a prominent feature. One or two other spires are seen, two large square buildings are prominent objects, and a tall chimney emits smoke. A mariner's compass is engraved at the extreme left. Beneath the view of New York is a large coat of arms showing the rising sun, the supporters are figures of Liberty and Justice and the crest is an eagle, the motto "Excelsior." To the right of the arms is a large view of an armed sloop at sea. Beneath these again is a large medallion inside which is inscribed, "Capt. John Young, New York, 1777," with a large flag bearing seven bars. The whole medallion surrounded by a wreath of laurel and ornamental work. Around the top are engraved "Sloop Independence," "Saratoga," a cannon and an anchor. The lower part of the horn is very neatly carved in relief in a rope design and the point in a twisted spiral.

One of the finest engraved powder-horns ever offered for sale, and in fine preservation; fitted with hand modelled dome wood base.
(Illustrated on p. 28)

104. ETCHED REVOLUTIONARY POWDER HORN. L. 15 ins.

Color pale yellow, darker in places. Double curved horn etched with "Moses Grainger, his horn, 1777." Various geometrical designs and a circle with "Fonthill Fort." Fitted with wooded tip and set ring. (Illustrated on p. 28)

105. ETCHED POWDER HORN. L. 10 ins.

Crude home made brass tip; wood base with home made set iron loop; etched with large initials "J. T." outlined in pointille; and scratched with "Will Cole." There are etched drawings of Peccary or Wild Hog, Crane, Wild Turkey with an arrow through its body; fish, snake, sun-burst, etc.

(Illustrated on p. 28)

106. MOUND BUILDERS IMAGE. H. 9 ins.; W. 3 ins.; D. 4 ins.

Pointed butt-tip pulls out revealing a dagger. RARE.

(Illustrated on p. 31)

117. PETTINGILL HAMMERLESS PERCUSSION ARMY REVOLVER. Cal. .44.

Patented in 1856 and the only hammerless revolver used by the United States Government, as it came ahead of its time; and it is interesting to note that the next revolver of a hammerless model was put on the market by Smith & Wesson not until thirty years later. The mechanism of these revolvers were complicated and weak and very few of them were made. Consequently they are not only very desirable from a collector's standpoint, but exceptionally rare, this specimen being in very fine original condition. Blued octagon barrel and cylinder, nickel frame and butt strap. No. 3232. Mark: Pettingill's Patent, 1856. Raymond & Robitaille, Pat. 1856

Superb example, factory new.

118. JOHN BROWN PIKE HEAD. L. 19 ins.

Rust pitted, retaining the two rings and original nails for the pikestaff.

133. CHINESE BRONZE DRAGOON BARREL MATCH-LOCK PISTOL. L. 7½ ins.; very small calibre, about .22.

A piece of hand-wrought ancient bronze with the "Dragon" motive (a symbol of victory among the ancient Chinese) dating back to about the Ming period (1100 A. D.). It was loaded with powder and ball, and fired by a lighted fuse. It is well known that powder was used by the Chinese long before it was introduced into Europe, and there is no doubt THAT THIS IS AMONG THE FIRST MADE POWDER SHOOTING WEAPONS. The barrel of carved bronze is the form of the Flame Dragon deeply carved.
